On 15 February 1954, about 25 biplanes with Polish national emblems in front of the hangar at Biala Podlaska (S 53/M 46) airfield.¹ No construction work was going on there probably because of unfavorable weather conditions. Construction material continued to arrive from Silesia. Shipping papers attached to the freight cars carrying the material indicated Breslau (P 52/C 42) as dispatching station. The foundations of hangars were located east of the existing hangar and north of the fuel dump at the northern edge of the field.²

25X1 1. Comment. Apparently there was no change in the occupation of Biala Podlaska airfield. A Polish flying school is believed to be stationed there.

25X1 2. Comment. These foundations were reported previously 25X1
